ABOUT THE BOOK

A young family struggle to come to terms with the sudden disappearance of wife and mother, Rowena Moon, from their home on the Cornish coast. Twenty-two years later the estranged Moon family, siblings Jenna, Charlie and Olivia, along with their father Brendan, are united again as a result of some startling news. The mysteries of the past begin to unravel and throw up challenging and uncertain futures for each of them. Sea Creatures moves between Cornwall and London, the past and the present, and explores the lasting effects of the disappearance of a loved one. Brendan, a professional artist, who lapsed into bouts of depression and drinking and largely ignored the needs of his children, must face the consequences of his actions. Olivia, a successful editor in a major publishing house in London is soon to learn the truth about her marriage. Charlie awaits trial for a serious drug offence. Jenna, the eldest, the one who holds the threads of her family together, finds herself facing the possibility of losing everything she regards as precious in her life.
